Principal

Glen is the Principal-in-Charge of Real Estate Services at SVA Certified Public Accountants, S.C. Glen provides clients with both the accounting and financial services needed to run a smooth operation as well as consulting guidance that helps clients manage their operations more effectively.

Glen provides government and nonprofit organizations with a variety of auditing and tax preparation services including financial statement audits, reviews, compilations, financial forecasts, and projections.

Glen works with a variety of nonprofit organizations including housing authorities, charitable organizations, membership and trade associations, and those organizations receiving federal funding where audits are required under OMB Circular A-133 and the Yellow Book.

In working with clients, he stresses the importance of identifying procedures and techniques needed to help them manage and control their business more efficiently and economically. Glen also emphasizes how ongoing planning can help businesses achieve their goals by assisting clients with strategic planning and goal setting, defining marketing programs, and implementing programs to enhance growth.

Glen is a member of the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants (WICPA) and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).
