

do you ever wonder could I sell my company and more importantly you understand how to build value within your organization hi I'm Joel medicine I'm a CPA with SVA certified public accountants and as part of our value building strategy within our business advisory services group I have developed specific steps as to how to get companies to better understand the financial information and they use that information to make better business decisions that creates greater company value so if you're interested in building value or finding out if your company is sellable I'd love to come and talk to your group contact us via
