

Andrea Hayes

Principal

hayesa@svaconsulting.com 608.826.2048

Andrea is a Principal for SVA Consulting, a member of the SVA family of companies.

She effectively coordinates the activities of diverse groups of people to achieve project outcomes. Andrea is adept at solving business process challenges and mapping to drive process and solution design. She closely monitors project plans to proactively identify and mitigate risk. Andrea is trained as an alignment manager and accomplished at diagnosing and optimizing the alignment of stakeholders to achieve common objectives.

Prior to joining SVA Consulting, Andrea worked on large-scale neuroscience research projects contributing to study design, managing teams of graduate and undergraduate students, analyzing data, and writing grants. She was a project manager for a large insurance and financial services company where she developed and managed the plan to get an at-risk project back on track. Andrea has also worked in the life sciences industry as a management consultant for clients, working as a program manager and client lead.

Some of her sample projects include the launch of a new medical affairs organization, development of performance measurement programs, and creation of observational studies.

Areas of Expertise

- Project Management
- Process Improvement
- Meeting Facilitation
- Stakeholder Alignment
- Communication Planning
- Organizational Design

Industries

- Insurance
- Life Sciences

Education

University of Wisconsin—Madison

- Bachelor of Arts - Psychology